Sunset: The End Of An Era?

Thirty-three years ago from Monday of this week, children started a new year at Sunset School, just as they will next Thursday morning. But in 1931, Sunset was the only school in the district. There was no high school. That was to open ten years later.

The six classrooms, built in 1925, to replace a demolished facility, are seen at the left of the auditorium in the picture above. They were inadequate to handle the 344 enrollment at Sunset in 1931 and an addition was in the process of being completed as the children started school in 1931. That addition is the auditorium and two classrooms pictured at right above. The addition of the auditorium was hailed as the opening of a new era for Carmel.

Let us look at Carmel 33 years ago. The Depression was being felt here. Plans were afoot for the city to find work for many unemployed citizens. The same year the Carmel Taxpayers Protective League was founded to see that the city council levied no unnecessary taxes and the Carmel Business Association was founded "to retain the traditions of Carmel."

The city council asked City At-

Feathers . . . From the Shaft

By Harry the Fletcher
No. 71

No great adventure ever fired my daily walk abroad, nor be it said my goal requires excitement for reward. Though some may only measure gain by battles left behind, there still are some who ascertain their wealth by peace of mind.

It may be true that one man's meat may be another's bane. While some may suffer from the heat, it also eases pain. I gamble not for life's high stakes, but just to make the grade; and if at times I make mistakes, what counts is how I played.

While on your daily rounds you walk, be tolerant and just; for what you say in idle talk may wreck some fellow's trust. Ask not if someone lost or won, but only — did he try? Nor ask him if his task be done, but what he did, and why.

I envy not the millionaire, nor wish for unearned boon. I build no castles in the air, nor reach beyond the moon. The simple things in life are still the ones that make me glad — like finding one five dollar bill I didn't know I had!

Carmelites Garner Fair Awards Led By Florence Popoff With 32

Carmel residents again carried off an impressive number of awards for entries in various sections of the Monterey County Fair.

The Carmelite who won the greatest number of awards was Florence Popoff. In the clothing and textiles division of the home economics section she garnered 14 firsts, 11 seconds and five thirds. In the baked goods division she was awarded a first and a third. All awards for Mrs. Popoff totaled 32.

Carmel photographers and artists also were high award winners at the fair and Carmel craftsmen carried off the majority of awards. In the professional art class Carmel winners were Harry Murphy, Ethlyn Crouch, Royden Martin, Alvin Beller, Leslie Emery and S. C. Yuan. Amateur artists from Carmel who won awards were Yvette de Petra, Andre Hope and Roderick McArthur.

Winners from Carmel in the crafts division were Don McGilvra, Shirley Harrah, K. William Wiese, Kevin James, Roscoe Russell, Adrienne Engle, Betty Garcia, Beth Garcia, Ester Rose, Doris Ormsby Harry Murphy, Carol Weston, Mrs. Archie G. Clark Jr., Anne Blinks, Dora Crabtree, Les Rhinehart, Jane Bartram, Alma Anderson, Charles Daniels, Iva McFall, Marcel and Gunnel Sedletzky and Shelly Waddington.

Photographers from Carmel with fair awards are Eileen Dufur, Barbara McKenzie, Al Weber, Steve Crouch, John Livingstone, Jeradine Lamb and Charles Robert Haugh.

Besides Florence Popoff, awards for clothing and textiles went to Jenny Andersen, Carol Weston, Mrs. Fred Sorri, Mrs. Angel de Leon and Dagny Elde.

Baked foods judged award winning entries from Carmel were those of Evelyn Mary and Edith

Association Wants City To Screen All New Businesses

A suggestion to preserve the desirable characteristics of the business district has been made by the Carmel Business Association.

In a letter, which will be presented to the council on Wednesday evening, the association suggests screening all new businesses.

At present, the letter states, there is no provision for screening when new businesses apply for licenses to open in Carmel.

"The present licensing procedure carries no restrictions whatsoever . . . if we are to keep Carmel as originally planned, some changes should be made as soon as possible," the letter says.

The letter, signed by Isabel Tostevin, business association president, says that the executive committee of the association, on August 6, unanimously approved writing to the council to express an active interest in screening "types of businesses wishing to operate in Carmel."

The letter further states that the Carmel Business Association would "be glad to appoint a committee to work with the city" in the introduction of a business license application that would screen new businesses at the time

Non-Profit Group Best To Develop Cultural Center

SUNSET COMMITTEE REPORT

Members of the Sunset Committee will be asked to vote on recommendations for a municipal cultural and community center on the Sunset School site, after it becomes city property on January 1, 1965, on Tuesday evening at 8 p.m. in the city hall, Frank Putnam, chairman of the committee, announces.

The interim report recommends that the most desirable development of the site would be a creative arts center built and operated by a group of Carmel art, music and theatre organizations by lease agreement with the city, in accordance with a proposal of the finance subcommittee.

In the meantime, present buildings should be used to the utmost until they interfere with new construction.

When the creative arts center is constructed the following procedure is advised in the report.

An arts council made up of representatives of Carmel cultural groups elected by their own membership at regular intervals—and also including representation from the city council, the arts commission, the planning commission and Harrison Memorial Library board—could become the Sunset governing board. Such a board should be a non-profit corporation and should enter into a contract with the city to lease the Sunset site on a long term basis with the understanding that it will be responsible for the planning, financing and building of a center to advance the best interests and artistic endeavors of the Carmel community. Such a center should include large auditorium, art gallery, museum, library and office, class and meeting rooms. Parking facilities should be constructed. The maintenance and operation would be the responsibility of this governing board.

Carmel citizens would thus be relieved of any tax burden now or in the future and yet could retain a large degree of participation in the policies of the governing board through the city's representation on the board, as well as through

Editor's Column

On August 13, the Pine Cone explained that the five cent per $100 assessed valuation county library tax, paid by every Carmel property owner, provides the bulk of popular, children's and reference books for the Harrison Memorial Library; provides, too, a $90 per month payment to the Carmel library for housing county-owned books. These volumes are available, free, to both residents and non-residents of Carmel.

However, if an adult non-resident wishes to take city-owned books out of the library, a payment of seven dollars a year is required for a library card.

Councilman Gunnar Norberg, consistently says that "burdensome inequities" are imposed on Carmel property owners by non-residents in the "urbanized unincorporated" areas surrounding the city.

He frequently cites the use of the library by non-residents as one of these inequities. And he's right in respect to the seven dollar card-holders.

Let's look at this situation and take for example a homeowner whose property is valued at $20,000. There are few homes, I admit, worth as little as this in Carmel, but I have selected this figure to aid me with my mathematics. It also will provide a surprise.

The $20,000 home, for tax purposes is assessed at one-quarter of its value, or $5,000.

On every $100 of this $5,000 assessed valuation, the homeowner, this year, will pay 36 and nine-tenths tax to the city to support the Harrison Memorial Library. Total library tax on the $20,000 home will be $18.45.

This proves that an owner of a $20,000 home in Carmel will pay this year, $11.45 more to support the library than an adult non-resident pays for a card granting the same privileges as are afforded the homeowner.

This is, indeed, an inequity!

MOVE TO SAVE TREES ON PRIVATE PROPERTY

Recent ruthless destruction of trees has led the Carmel arts and forestry commission to send a joint recommendation to the city council asking that body to reconsider instituting tree-cutting controls on private property.

The council will consider this request on Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Marjorie Wurmman recently told other arts commissioners that she believes trees are the most artistically important single asset of Carmel. She added that she had observed several instances in past weeks where beautiful trees had been cut down by developers of private property in order to facilitate construction.

Mrs. Wurmman thought it fitting that the arts commission recommend controls of such devastation to the city council. Other commissioners unanimously agreed to her proposal, also to ask forestry commissioners to support their recommendation.

The forestry commission, by a unanimous vote, decided to make the request for tree-cutting control on private property a joint recommendation of their body and the arts commission.

Two years ago a law to control the cutting of trees in the 15-foot privately-owned front setback of each lot was defeated by a 2-3 vote of the council. This control was proposed by the then mayor, Eben Whittlesey, who is still a member of the council.

ONLY IN CARMEL

Observed By Harry Fletcher

I love Carmel, and I have a deep regard and respect for the residents of Carmel and for those engaged in business here. In this connection I feel a bond of responsibility to preserve truth and integrity in the subject matter contained in this column, by meticulously avoiding prevarication and exaggeration. If ever there is disagreement, it will assuredly be in degree of preference rather than in basic fact. "Only In Carmel" could these things be said. Because they are true.

In the news columns you will find reports of prominent people of keen discrimination who have dined at The Marquis, Carmel's now famous gourmet restaurant situated on San Carlos Street at Fourth Avenue. One party of distinguished visitors, with known royal connections, recently enjoyed a dinner in this regal establishment, and pronounced the food and service as superb, equal to European epicurean standards, and even superior to many. Walter Becker, host, and Werner Kalms, head chef, are the proprietors, and cordially welcome local residents and visitors. The menu is ample and varied, and the prices are by no means prohibitive.

One of the delightful developments has been the growing tendency of honeymoon couples to crown their sojourn here with a dinner at The Marquis. It is an experience to be cherished in memory over the years, and to look forward to on a return visit. Further, it has become quite the vogue for Carmel residents to celebrate special occasions with a dinner party here, and the wise husband will bring his wife here to enjoy the "royal treatment" when going out to dine is indicated as the right thing to do to please the little woman—dinner at The Marquis for "just us two."

It has often been said that American children are born under a handicap, exposed as they are to the mental hazards of comic books, television, and mass education. Whether or not this may be the cause of so much juvenile delinquency is something for the experts to decide. However, there is one Carmelite who has dedicated herself to do something about enriching the child's school program by providing the right kind of reading material.

Mrs. Howard F. Bruggeman in her bookshop, The Magic Fishbone, which is located on Mission Street between 5th and 6th (right behind The Clam Box restaurant), specializes wholly in children's books for all ages, and gives her personal attention to each individual customer, and offers advice regarding the selection of books to give to a child according to that child's need. She asserts that children should be given the advantage of books which give authentic information, and which are rich in vocabulary, stimulate imagination through strong plot and character development, and which have a balance of beauty and text through artistic illustration and distinguished writing, setting a standard of high literary and artistic quality. Having served quite a few years as a teacher, Mrs. Bruggeman is well qualified to help those who are seeking the right kind of book to the rising generation. Visit The Magic Fishbone. It may open your eyes.

Investing in securities is a business in itself, to be guided by competent investment counselors such as are associated with the Irving Lundborg Co., on Dolores Street between Sixth and Fifth avenues. But it should be noted that investment success does not end with a choice of securities. Changing economic conditions require eternal vigilance and constant review. It is a full time job to check each holding and analyze up-to-date statistical information, and this takes judgment, experience, and direct access to the latest direct information. This is the function which Irving Lundborg Co. performs for you. New information is continuously being received from many sources. The ability to appraise these facts and data comes from constant association with investment problems. A visit to this commodious Carmel office can afford you the unbiased advice of several associates who are Carmel residents and as such are dependable sources of investment information. It costs you nothing to get this information. You will, of course, be advised that everyone should first have some cash reserve or the equivalent, and adequate insurance before considering investment in securities. The soundest approach for the investment of your surplus dollars is not to seek quick, short-term results, but to make haste slowly through an intelligent choice of an investment which seeks the same objectives you do.

The art of appearing well-dressed, as far as a man is concerned, is not simply a matter of clothes or the money spent on them, but mainly in what he wears, whether he is a man in his sixties, or a youngster going to school or college. And here is where the people at Kent of Carmel step into the picture. Both in the men's shop or in the young men's specialty clothing store just across the courtyard in Lincoln Court, there are people who can advise you on what to wear, and what is more important, what to wear with what, and what fits and suits your particular style and build. Here you find the kind of clothes that hold their shape, the genuine Shetland tweeds, for instance, or the homespun, together with the slacks, shirts, ties, and everything to outfit the man in school or business.

So, man to man, the best place to go for men's clothes is to look for the Kent sign on Lincoln Street, just up from Sixth Avenue, turn into Lincoln Court and then let good sense take its course. Once you become a Kent customer, you'll be glad I told you about it.

Joan Baez Sings Saturday Evening For Pioneer House

Some tickets are still available for the Joan Baez concert Saturday evening.

The nationally-known folksong artist and guitarist is giving this concert as a benefit for Pioneer House, a nursery school in Seaside which provides opportunities for broadening the cultural experience of pre-school age children.

Research has proved that background, attitudes and skill obtained before starting school are responsible for later achievement, or lack of it, in the learning process.

By means of field trips to interesting places in this area, introductions to art, music and literature, vocabulary building and work with pre-mathematical skills, children attending Pioneer House broaden their cultural experience in preparation for more formal education.

Pioneer House is a non-profit community project. Proceeds from the Baez concert will be used to operate the school for culturally deprived children.

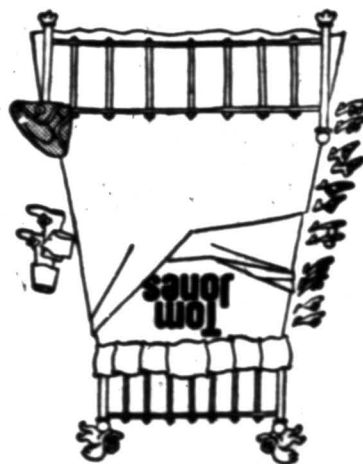

The Monterey Chapter of the American Federation of Teachers is sponsoring Joan Baez's Peninsula appearance.

She is returning here, where she lives, after a concert tour in the East.

Tickets at $2.00, $3.00, $3.50 and $4.00 may be obtained at Central Box Office. The concert starts at 8 p.m.

Sails will be silhouetted against the skyline this week-end as over 30 skippers compete on Carmel Bay in the annual Stillwater Yacht Club Labor Day Mercury Regatta.

The regatta begins with a tune-up race on Saturday. Two races will be held on Sunday, one starting at 11 a.m., the other at 2:30 p.m.

The final race to determine the winner will start at 11 a.m. on Sunday. Presentation of trophies and luncheon will follow at the Beach Club.

—Julian P. Graham Studio

Rob Gaestel of the Merced Yacht Club will be one of the sailors competing in the regatta. He has won the event five times. This year he will have his wife, Betty, as crew and they will sail the boat in which Rob won for the first time in 1951.

Roy Ashley of the Sausalito Yacht Club will also sail in the event. John Rumsey of San Diego will crew for him. Roy led sailors in the event last year and has won it three other times. He, too, will sail in the boat in which he won the first time in 1953. He is borrowing it from Dr. John Gratlot.

Pat Bradley, winner in 1962, is returning to compete this year. He placed fifth in the National Mercury Championships at Huntington Lake. Rick Gregory will crew for him.

Jim Womble, 1959 winner, with his wife, Pat, as crew will participate in the regatta.

Saturday evening competitors will attend a cocktail party and dinner dance at the Beach Club. Sunday evening, the sailing group will be entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Jenkins at a cocktail party in their home overlooking Stillwater Cove in Pebble Beach.

Richard Catlin is commodore of the Stillwater Yacht Club. Thomas K. Perry is vice commodore.

Sunday I thought it felt and looked like rain, but Jane Vial and Elayne Chanslor didn't. They were showing two young university students from England around Carmel, the Mission and Point Lobos.

"I think it is going to rain," said one of the young men.

"It never rains in California this time of year," Jane and Elayne assured him.

Then it did, on Monday. Just goes to show one can't fool a Brit-isher about rain... even in California in August.

Now it is September. This is the month Frank Putnam has a birthday. And he's going to celebrate it by giving the interim report of the Sunset Committee to the city council... at least that's what he keeps telling the committee. Maybe Mayor Blanks will let Frank sit in his seat at city hall. After all, he filled it well when he was younger... and the mayor of Carmel.

Raymond Kendall, who wrote an article about the Bach Festival for the Los Angeles Times last month, says that the festival had "All the flavor and appurtenances of a good European festival," and that I like.

However, he must have a Los-Angeles-Sprawl complex. He calls Carmel a "Carmel Valley community."

I know those Los Angelenos have trouble knowing where their city starts and stops but I didn't know, until Dr. Remsen Bird showed me Mr. Kendall's article, that they have the same trouble with other cities.

Or could it be that Mike Silberstein's incorporation study of the Valley in someone's mind embraces Carmel.

Anyway, it's horrifying to know that, even in anyone's mind, Carmel could be any part of what Councilman Norberg calls the "unincorporated urban area."

We've had a city council and boundaries for nearly half a century.

Novelist Bob Carney, "Bicycle Bob," as he's known to some people, is now gliding down and puffing up Carmel's hilly streets, also wheeling around the Point, with a Salinger sticker on the back of his bicycle's carrier basket. A Farr sticker is attached to one side of the same basket and on the other side is a "No" on Proposition 13 sticker.

Bob says he's looking for an "All the Way with LBJ" banner to fly from his handlebars.

They tell me all this means he's a Democrat.

I wonder what he will have on the next kite he flies on the beach? "Only a string holds me from heaven," maybe?

I think one of the most graphic small-boat sailing stories of all time, written by Dorothea Veeder Condon, is in this issue of the Pine Cone. Its head begins with "Jon Raggett."

Jon seems to have been the only one in the race who did not have to deal with disaster... except for George Yates.

George "dropped out in the last race." One can't help but wonder why. He'd survived so much judging by all the disasters which beset everyone but Jon and himself.

Maybe George decided to quit while he was still on top... of the water that is!

Two Carmel Girls Chosen To Study At University In Spain

Judy Ann Kratky, the daughter of Mrs. Jitka Kratky, and Pamela Petersen, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Petersen, are two of the 240 students of the University of California, enroute to campuses in Europe for one year of study.

Judy, who was born in Czechoslovakia, spent ten years of her childhood in South America. With her mother and her younger sister, Laddy, she came to Carmel four years ago and graduated from Carmel High School in 1962.

Already speaking her native language, also French, German and English, Judy who will be at the University of Madrid, is majoring in languages. She has been a student at the University of California at Davis for the past two years.

Judy sailed from New York aboard the Aurelia. An air mail letter from Paris reached Mrs. Kratky yesterday telling of Judy's three days in New York City and the warm welcome to the students in Paris. She expected to go on to Madrid this week-end.

Pam Petersen, who graduated from Carmel High in 1961, will also study at the University of Madrid. She, too, won her student credentials at the University of California at Davis where she was a junior last year.

Pam attended the University of Colorado for one year before transferring to Davis. She left her home early in August to visit friends in the east before sailing from New York on the Aurelia.

Students chosen by U.C. for study abroad are screened for superior academic ratings for such had at least two years of appropriate language background. Students receive full academic credit for courses taken abroad. A special effort to assimilate into the new culture is made by placing Americans in classes and living groups along with resident students.

Jon Raggett Wins George Yates Trophy In Capsizing Wind

The Senior El Toro Championships — three races — were held Sunday during a southwester of over 20 miles an hour.

All the small boats were skippered by Mercury owners with one exception—Wendy Clark, who was eligible since she won the Junior El Toro championship the week before.

Wendy capsized four times during the day and finally gave up. Dan Hudson, another junior champion, went over once and had a breakdown: Jimmy Sweeney turned turtle three times but finished wet and cold. Harvey Kilpatrick broke his mast but with an available piece of rope managed to finish.

Van Yates won the morning race and had the afternoon race in the bag but hit a mark. Dick Clark got two seconds but in the last race broke his tiller and crashed into the wharf disqualifying himself. George Yates had no trouble but dropped out of the last race.

Bud Clark got a ducking when a gust of wind turned him over but he finished dripping wet. Jon Raggett sailed as an old salt and had no trouble. He took first place and also the George Yates Perpetual trophy. Harvey Kilpatrick was second; Van Yates, third; Dick Clark, fourth; and George Yates and Jimmy Sweeney tied for fifth.

Concert And Play This Week-End At White Oaks Theatre

Three Men Injured In Car Accident

This morning the Red Cross ambulance operated by the Carmel Volunteer Fire Department answered a call at 12:44 o'clock and took three men injured in an automobile accident to the Community Hospital. According to the Carmel Police Department report, Man M. Joshi of the Presidio of Monterey was driving north on Dolores Street when he collided with a car owned by Joseph E. Hosie of Fort Ord parked south of Eleventh Avenue. The Joshi car next hit a tree, also a fence in front of the home of Mrs. Mary Devita.

Joshi received lacerations of the face and right knee. Two passengers in the car he was driving were also injured. They were Pal Singh Ofinder and Singh Davinder. Ofinder suffered compound fractures of both legs and face lacerations. Davinder's right leg was fractured and his face lacerated.

Responsible for the artists who have appeared at White Oaks during the summer, Mr. Nance is the theatre's musical director and during the winter is assistant director of opera at Louisiana State University.

Only four performances remain of White Oaks Theatre's production of "The Pajama Game." This show will play Thursday, Friday, Saturday, and Sunday evenings at 8:30 p.m. in the rustic barn located behind the post office in Carmel Valley Village.

Reservations may be made by telephoning OL 9-2248.

Pine Needles

Surprised By Rain

The Thompson McCreas, owners of Tally-Ho, have just returned from a three-month stay in Wai-kiki where they have been supervising the furnishing and decoration of their new apartment in the Ilikai, the largest condominium in the world, Thompson tells us.

The McCreas came back to the mainland in time to attend the wedding of Amanda Blake, ("Kitty" in TV's "Gun Smoke") and Jason Day of Scottsdale on August 15. Amanda, who with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Clayton Neill, has frequently visited the McCreas, has many friends in Carmel.

The wedding was one of southern California's most spectacular. The ceremony which took place in Christ Church Unity of Los Angeles was attended by just 200 close friends of the bride and groom. Amanda was given away by her father. Her gown of mist blue silk satin was an Empress Josephine model by Richard Blackwood of Hollywood and Beverly Hills who used 35 yards of satin in the making. The veil of silk illusion net, which floated the full length of the train, was held by a coronet of blue jewels, and the bridal bouquet was of white roses.

Richard Blackwood's magnificent home in Beverly Hills was the scene of the reception for 500 guests. Violinists on each step of the great spiral staircase leading to the drawing room played traditional wedding ballads.

Following a wedding trip to Alaska, Mr. and Mrs. Day will return to Hollywood so that Amanda may complete her contract of appearances in "Gun Smoke" which has 22 more months to run.

Merle and Tom McCreas weren't really surprised to find Carmel a bit foggy on their return, but RAIN in August! They were not the only amazed Carmelites.

'In Love With Carmel'

Prominent in civic and welfare activities in Los Angeles for many years, Mrs. Stuart Symington Goode, (nee Katherine Walter of San Jose) has sold her Hollywood home and, looking forward to being a permanent resident, is now settled in her new home on Hatton Road in Carmel.

Her first visitors were her daughter and son-in-law, the Reverend Samuel Leslie Hall, Mrs. Hall, and their three children.

Also recent houseguests were Mrs. I. Norman Downer and her artist daughter, Mary Jane Spence, of San Jose.

Expected to visit Mrs. Goode this month are Mrs. Carleton Blaine Lyon, Mrs. Monte Keyes and Mrs. Claire Robertson, all of Los Angeles.

"Not only I, but all my guests are in love with Carmel," Mrs. Goode told the Pine Cone.

Youth Center Open House

The Carmel Youth Center will hold its fifteenth annual Open House party, to welcome new students, on Friday evening, September 11. Members of the Youth Center Board will be there to greet the young people. All parents are invited. Music for dancing will be provided by the Imperials.

Winona Lodge Honeymoon

When Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Dixon built the lodge at Dolores and Fifth in 1946, they named it "Winona" for their baby granddaughter, the child of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hopper (Ruby Dixon).

Winona's family home was in Hanford where she grew up and, last year, left to enter Santa Clara University. There she met John Avila, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Henrique Avila of San Diego, who was a senior.

Winona and John were married in St. Peter's Catholic Church in Lemoore last Saturday, with the reception for 200 guests held in the garden of the Hopper ranch.

The bride and bridegroom left in a shower of rice, keeping their wedding trip destination a deep secret. Only one person really guessed where Mr. and Mrs. Avila would spend their honeymoon. That was Winona's grandmother, Mrs. Dixon—and she was right! Winona and John drove directly to Carmel and registered at Winona Lodge!

The young couple will make their home on the campus of the University of Maryland where John will be a graduate student and an assistant teacher in the graduate school. Winona plans to attend the university too, working toward her B.A. degree.

Ladera Wedding

Eugenie Madden, the daughter of Mrs. Andrew E. Mattel of Fresno and Thomas Chester Madden of Palo Alto and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene O. Thompson of Carmel, became the bride of Richard B. Watson of Palo Alto on August 15. The ceremony was held in Ladera Community Church with the Reverend Weldon Batty officiating.

In telling of the dramatically beautiful ceremony, Mrs. Thompson said that the lighting of the altar candles by the bride's tiny cousins, Anne Randall Breckenridge of Fresno and John Christopher Walker of Los Gatos, held the watching guests spellbound. The two children also served as flower girl and ringbearer.

The bride, who attended Santa Catalina School for Girls, as well as Fresno State College, has many Carmel friends.

Dick Watson is a graduate of Wayne University. He is active in the Palo Alto Community Theatre and is a member of the Palo Alto Yacht Club.

Following the champagne wedding reception at Country House in Ladera, the Thompsons brought Mr. and Mrs. Mattel home with them for a visit in Carmel.

Small and large printing orders are quickly filled at The Pine Cone Press. Dial Carmel MA 4-3881.

Married In East

Patricia Anne Leary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Leary of Cooperstown, New York was married on Saturday to Grant Charles Leschin, son of Mrs. Thornton Fry of Carmel, formerly of New York and Boulder, and the late Mr. Samuel Leschin.

The Reverend Robert C. Murphy read the papal blessing at the ceremony in St. Mary's Church of Cooperstown which was followed by a reception under a tent at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father. She wore an empire, A-line gown of imported ivory linen with a wateau train, batteau neckline and elbow-length sleeves. With it she wore a mantilla of belgian lace and carried a bouquet of white daisies.

Miss Mary Ellen Leary of Washington, D.C. was maid of honor for her sister, whose bridesmaids were Mrs. Albert LeMay of Providence, Rhode Island, and Margaret Dealy, Patricia McCann and Jane Sweeney, all of New York. They wore floor-length yellow linen gowns, styled like that of the bride, with contrasting velvet trim. Their headpieces were cocoa velvet ribbons, matching the trim on their dresses and they carried baskets of black-eyed susans.

Frederick Specht of New York was the best man. The ushers were Peter von Storch of Greenwich, Connecticut, Richard deLima, William Magratten and John Priesing, all of New York.

Mrs. Leschin attended Marymount International School in Kingston Hill, Surrey, and the Royal Holloway College of London University. She graduated from Marymount College in Tarrytown, New York, and is a copywriter for Sports Illustrated.

Her husband, a graduate of Amherst College and Yale Law School, is employed with International Business Machines.

After a wedding trip to Bermuda, the couple will reside in New York.

Town House Programs

The Sunday afternoon discussions at the Carmel Foundation Town House will, during September, October and November, be based on two themes.

On the first and third Sundays of each month the topic will be "Book Conversations." Mrs. Fred Farley, chairman for next Sunday, will lead discussion of Shakespeare's plays, "The Tempest" and "Mid-Summer Night's Dream." Frederick Schaad will be chairman of the September 20 discussion when the topic will be the recently published volume, "The Great Pianists" by Harold C. Schonberg.

The second and fourth Sunday meetings will be devoted to discussion of problems presented in Barbara Ward's book "Rich and the Poor Nations."

Next Wednesday afternoon, Miss Laura Durgin will present and comment upon her color slides entitled "Experiences of an Exchange Teacher in Switzerland."

Miss Durgin will present her film at 1:30 p.m. and again at 3 p.m. The latter presentation will be followed by tea.

All interested citizens and their friends are invited to next Wednesday's meeting and to all Sunday meetings and teas.

Baez Boxholders

With tickets for the Joan Baez concert, to be held on Saturday evening at the Monterey County Fairgrounds, fast approaching a sell-out, Mrs. Ephraim Doner one of the most enthusiastic supporters of the event which will benefit Pioneer House in Seaside, gives her list of Carmel boxholders. Included are, Mr. and Mrs. Everett C. Banfield, Mr. and Mrs. Sebastian Bordanaro, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Donahue, Mr. and Mrs. John Gamble, Also, Mr. and Mrs. William Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Richard T. Wilsdon and Mr. and Mrs. George Walker.

The Don Crileys will share a box with Mr. and Mrs. William H. Satchell.

"Selling tickets for a worthy cause is a fascinating job, and I think Pioneer House, with its preschool program, preparing 3, 4 and 5-year-olds for grade school, is one of the finest causes I've ever worked for," Mrs. Doner told us, "I'm afraid my enthusiasm has gone a bit beyond bounds, I've sold my own reservations and at the moment am . . . boxless!"

From A Librarian's Notebook

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg, City Librarian

Facing both ways, Janus-like, we want to call to your attention books from last week's collection and also from the ones to go into circulation this present week. Last week a book by Senator Joseph Clark of Pennsylvania began its service to our reading public, the title of it being CONGRESS: THE SAPLESS BRANCH. This is a penetrating book which seeks to stimulate the responsible voter and to awaken the average congressman. Another book in the political science field is WINNING WITHOUT WAR by Amital Etzioni. The author says, "History is filled with examples of countries as great as the United States that, being wedded to past policies, were unable to cut themselves loose from outworn perspectives when confronted with new situations."

A book in a related field is the two-volume work by Julius Pratt which is entitled CORDELL HULL. This is part of a series on the American Secretaries of State and Their Diplomacy. It is a scholarly work and will be of interest to the person really interested in American diplomatic history. The type and make-up of the books are truly great, being in an easy-to-read type face, which will allow long reading without weariness. Still in history, we have another two-volume work, this time a history of Germany from pagan times to the end of the Weimar Republic. It was written by Kurt Reinhardt and is called GERMAN, 2000 YEARS. This is a second revised edition of the work whose author is a professor at Stanford University.

In a lighter vein, let us next consider A PRIMER OF FLY FISHING by Roderick Haig-Brown. This is a book for both the beginner and the more advanced fisherman. It has an index in case you wish to refer to a certain fly or method.

We seldom buy paperbacks, their library life is too short unless they have been reinforced in some way, so the arrival of a large and rather limp paperback on exercises and body conditioning came as a shock. Recall its weaknesses when you borrow it and treat it with loving care. Its title is ISOMETRIC EXERCISES and it was written by Earl Wallace. "Only ten seconds of your time is required for each exercise" it says on the cover, which is as far as we got. Who was it said that muscles come and muscles go but flab stays? Another physical type book is UNDERSTANDING YOUR SYMPTOMS by Dr. Joseph Wessug who states that his purpose in writing the book is to help the patient to cooperate more fully with his doctor. We do most sincerely hope that it will not encourage patients in self diagnosis.

For the woman who likes to sew, there is a new book by Adele Margolis. It is called THE COMPLETE BOOK OF TAILORING. This is a really complete handling of the subject and begins with the choosing of the pattern and ends when the tailor sews her own tag name into the collar of the garment. Many, many illustrations which were done by the artist husband of the author.

Haroun Tazieff has written a book about earthquakes, always of interest in these parts. It is called WHEN THE EARTH TREMBLES. The author lives in Paris and he writes of earthquakes all around the world, their causes and their results.

We have a flock of new novels this week, 10 or 11 of them, a thing which should delight our patrons, novels having been a little scarce the past month. But McNaughton is always mainly novels and they keep coming in, so all is not lost.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

States and stages of human progress will be explored in the Bible Lesson on "Man" at all Christian Science churches this Sunday.

Bible selections will include the following from Romans (ch. 12): "Be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God."

Readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include these lines (p. 296): "Progress is born of experience. It is the ripening of mortal man, through which the mortal is dropped for the immortal. Either here or hereafter, suffering or Science must destroy all illusions regarding life and mind, and regenerate material sense and self. The old man with his deeds must be put off."

The Sur Coast

By ELIZABETH FULLER JONES

Big Sur Artist's Commissions

Loet Van der Veen, Big Sur sculptor, ceramist and potter, is in Southern California this week installing a sculptured ceramic wall in the new Arrowhead Country Club at Lake Arrowhead in the San Bernardino Mountains. The wall, made in sections, was designed and created by artist Van der Veen in his studio located on the coast between Big Sur and Pacific Valley. Albert Parvin Company of Los Angeles, interior decorators for large commercial ventures, commissioned Mr. Van der Veen to design and form the wall which is a dominant feature of the new club building. Another work of this Big Sur ceramist-sculptor has recently been placed in the studios of Adele Faulkner, A.I.D., of Los Angeles, nationally-known interior decorator. This design combines the use of metal and ceramics to form a divider screen on the executive floor of the Faulkner Studios.

Another commission, just received by Loet Van der Veen, is to design and build a fountain of glazed ceramic tile to be incorporated into the over-all plan of a new hospital in San Jose that is now in the preliminary planning stages at the firm of Rex Whitaker Allen, A.I.A., of San Francisco.

Just completed is another sculptured ceramic wall by this versatile Big Sur artist which adorns the walls of the offices of Architect Leo A. Daly, A.I.A., of Maiden Lane, San Francisco.

When the California Design Show opens early next year in Pasadena, visitors there will have an opportunity to see a most representative work of this very busy, talented artist—a ceramic wall which combines the use of fused glass and stained glass. This show is a triennial one and presents the works of artists in fields of ceramics, sculpture, tapestry, fabrics, furniture, etc.

Loet Van der Veen came to his home and studio on the Sur Coast from New York about four years ago and here he has found, amid the isolation of the dramatically beautiful coastal country, the ideal place to pursue the work he so enjoys. The first showing of his works on the West Coast was at the Coast Gallery, Big Sur in 1961. Last year a handsome collection of his ceramic pieces was on display at the M. H. de Young Memorial Museum in San Francisco. Mr. Van der Veen has the enviable distinction of being the sole pupil of Dr. Fong Chow of the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York. In association with Dr. Chow he worked on the painstaking project of reproducing old Chinese glazes.

A friendship that began during World War II days, between Mrs. William Harnett of Big Sur and Mrs. Lenore Martin of Pacific Grove, is being renewed in a very happy and satisfying way—a way that is bringing pleasure to each of them. Mrs. Martin, "Lee" as she is called by family and friends, is producing handknit sweaters of "pull-over" and "jacket" type in a variety of sizes and colors, and these attractive and useful articles are being offered for sale by her friend Mrs. Harnett, "Norma" as she is known to her host of friends in the Big Sur area. Lee Martin, recently retired, now has the time to do the meticulous work of knitting and shaping these colorful and well-fitting garments and Norma Harnett is enthusiastically showing them to interested people along the Sur Coast.

When the two women first met Norma Harnett worked as a civilian employee with the United States Government in the Los Angeles and Santa Monica area, and Lee Martin was enlisted in the WAC's. Technical Sergeant Martin, was transferred to the then active Camp Stoneman near Pittsburg, California. After the war, she re-enlisted, this time in the WAF, the Women's Air Force (this was during the Korean War) and service found her for two years at Harmon Air Force Base, Newfoundland, and three years in England. During those years Mrs. Harnett was busy taking care of her two daughters, Janet and Nancy, and William Harnett was employed at Lockheed Aircraft Corporation in the Los Angeles area. The friends continued to keep in touch through correspondence. Then four years ago Mr. William Harnett had an opportunity to become a member of the staff at Pfeiffer State Park, Big Sur, and the Harnett family moved to the home they now occupy within the park. A few months ago, Lee Martin, concluded that she would prefer to be in the Monterey Peninsula area, near where her close friend lived and near, too, where her brother is building a new home in Strawberry Canyon, near Watsonville.

Now the two long-time friends have opportunity for frequent visits, and the way to enrich their friendship by being helpful to one another through the medium of the articles Mrs. Martin can produce, and through Mrs. Harnett's joyous interest in being able to make the articles available to those that desire them.

Art News

A Carmel artist, Ferrin Whitaker, took second place in the Lodi Grape Festival Art Show it was announced Saturday. The picture he entered in the landscape and marine section is titled "Cascades."

Third place also went to a Carmel painter, G. H. Akin's picture, "Rock at Pescadero Point," won this honor.

Honorable mention was given to "Through the Fog" by Howard Bobbs and to "Winter" by James Buckingham. Both are Carmel painters.

Al Weber of Carmel took a third place in the photography section of the same show with an untitled black and white print.

Through September, the Zantman Art Galleries on Sixth Avenue east of Dolores Street will show oil paintings and water colors by Ned Pankin, also wire sculptures by Russ Shears.

Born in Brooklyn, Mr. Pankin studied at the Art Students League in New York City with Yosuo Kuniyoshi, Arnold Blanch and Jean Liberte before coming to California in 1951. Landscapes of this state are his specialty and a collection of his California scenes are included in the Zantman show. He has had one-man shows in Beverly Hills and Salt Lake City, also shown his work at the San Francisco Museum of Art Annual, California State Fair, Oakland Annual, San Francisco Art Festival and recently at the Winter Invitational Show in the Legion of Honor, San Francisco.

Russ Shears is a young Californian who was born in Los Angeles. His sculptures are made of steel wire and brass, sometimes with the addition of enamel, and their skeletal shape permits one to see all sides at once.

He attended the University of Hawaii and had thorough art training at the Otis Art Institute and at Lukits' Academy of Fine Arts. His works show an ideal combination of vivid imagination, good knowledge of anatomy, a great sense of humor and excellent craftsmanship.

Lillian DeCock of Carmel won an honorable mention for a print entered in the black and white section of the California State Fair's 24th annual North American Photographic Exhibit. Title of her photograph is "Base of Bridalveil Fall."

Howell Armor of Carmel exhibited at the Monterey County Fair the wooden Ionic Cross which he was commissioned to sculpt for the new Sunday School building at the Carmel Presbyterian Church. A dove in lighter-toned wood is seen on the cross with wings spread in flight.

A one-man show of the work of Zdenek Rada will open Sunday in the Community Room gallery of the Carmel Rancho Shopping Center. Approximately 20 oil paintings will be on view through September 20.

The artist, a native-born Czechoslovakian, received his education in Prague, Paris and Munich. He fled from his native land to Austria as a political refugee when the Communists took over his native land; later established residence in Australia where he began to exhibit his work. He has just completed a one-man show at Lake Tahoe, and following the exhibition at Carmel Rancho, he will live for a time in Mexico where two exhibitions of his paintings are slated for major galleries in Mexico City.

Examples of his work are currently included in the first exhibition of Czechoslovakian art in the free world, during the Second Congress being held at Columbia University in New York.

Hours of the Rada show at Carmel Rancho will be 9-12 a.m. and 1-4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday; Saturdays and Sundays, 1-4 p.m.

Ansel Adams of Carmel Highlands, one of the great photographers of this century, will head a distinguished list of exhibitors in a variety show of the fine arts in the September offering at the Villa Montalvo cultural center at Saratoga.

Original prints of his world-renowned magnificent photographs of the Western United States which make the Sierra look as big as they are, will be exhibited in Central Gallery. They are taken from Mr. Adams's Portfolio Four made in memory of Russell Varian, scientist, humanitarian and conservationist. The memorial folio was published by the Sierra Club in November, 1963.

"Cathedral," a painting by Zdenek Rada, is one of the pictures included in the one-man show of this artist's work which opens Sunday in the Community Room gallery at Carmel Rancho shopping center at the entrance to Carmel Valley.

Ansel Adams is a native San Franciscan. During his youth, he taught himself to play the piano and read music and trained for his intended professional career as a concert artist. But in 1916 he went for the first time to Yosemite and took his first pictures with a box Brownie camera. Thereafter, he studied photography diligently and held his first important one-man show at the de Young Museum in 1932. In 1961 the University of California awarded him the honorary degree of doctor of fine arts.

On September 13 at 3 p.m. there will be a free program in Montalvo's Carriage House Theatre when Mr. Adams will talk about his photographs.

A one-man show of paintings of the Navajo country by Ferdinand Burgdorff will be on exhibit daily from 11 a.m.-5 p.m. at the Carmel Art Association Gallery all through September.

Mr. Burgdorff, who has lived here since 1908, was one of the founders of the Carmel Art Association which maintains artist-owned galleries on Dolores Street north of Sixth.

A new exhibit of paintings and sculpture by members of the Carmel Art Association opens today in the large room of the gallery. John La Pierre headed the committee which hung this show.

A special showing of rental pictures will hang in the Beardsley Room of the gallery through tomorrow.

The Atascadero Art Club announces its Fifth Annual Festival of Art, September 19 and 20. Displays will include, not only paintings, but other crafts and arts as well. Each entrant must provide his own means of exhibiting and be responsible for his exhibits at all times. Exhibits should be in place by 9 a.m. in the morning each day. The club theme is "Early California."

The judge for the exhibits at the festival will be Mrs. Mary Jane Spence. She is the first practicing artist to be appointed to the California Fine Arts Commission, also has official responsibilities on the coordinating Arts Council for Santa Clara County, is on the managing board of the San Jose Arts Center with the San Jose Symphony Association and is chairman of the art committee for Greater San Jose's Festival of Arts. Local Singers And Unique Costumes For Show In Valley

Local voices will be blended with those of White Oaks Theatre company members and former Occidental College singers to form the chorus for Menotti's "The Unicorn, the Gorgon and the Manticore," being presented by White Oaks September 10-13.

Maggie Merrick is the one Carmelite taking part in the production. Other Peninsula residents are Ben Loftin, Dolores Berta, Janis Jones, and Kathy Wilson of Carmel Valley; Betty Crittenden of Monterey and Dr. John Craig of Pebble Beach; Dick Chamberlin and Morris Dill of Camber Grove; and Lee R. Haggard, Marina.

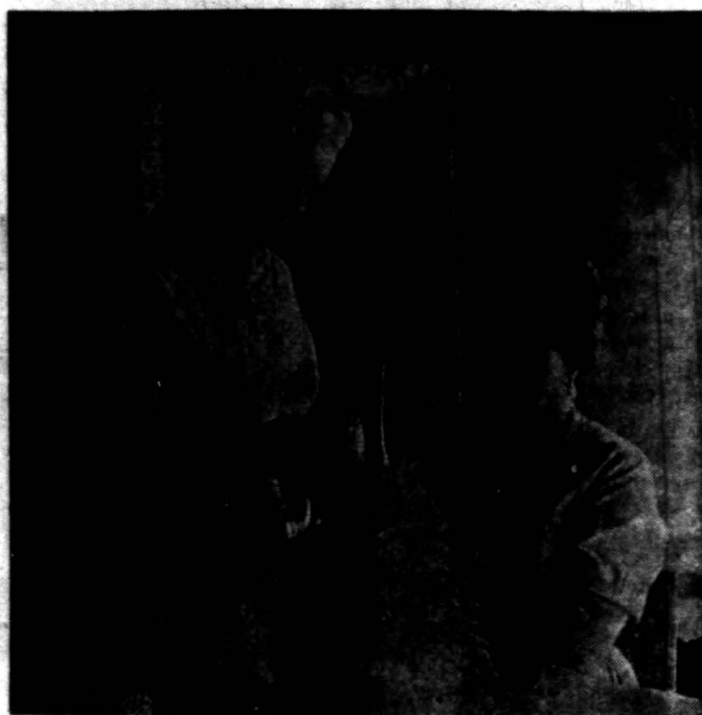

Tani Bowman, another Carmel Valley girl, will dance the part of the unicorn. Miss Bowman, who is a former White Oaks company member, is now studying at Monterey Peninsula College.

Three particularly resourceful costumes in the presentation are those of the mythical beasts. The unicorn is a horselike creature with a horn sprouting from its forehead. More elaborate is the gorgon with the teeth of a swine, scales of a dragon, wings and human hands. The grotesque manticore has a man's face, blood-red eyes, three rows of teeth, and a scorpion's tail.

Remembered for his lavish sets and costumes for Pacific Ballet's production of "Manolete," Leonardo Carvajal de la Santa, currently scenic and costume designer for the American Concert Ballet in Los Angeles, is the 30-year-old artist who will design the beasts' costumes. He also has done work for the Actors' Studio and Jack Garfein in New York, the Hampton Beach Playhouse, and the Sausalito Theatre.

The son of a Swedish mother and a Spanish father, Carvajal's childhood was spent in Madrid, and in New York City. He attended Columbia University and the Parsons School of Design; then returned to Europe to continue his studies in Madrid and Paris. He is now a resident of San Francisco.

A great variety of beautiful and unusual Christmas ornaments and decorations are being created at the home of Mrs. Charles H. McIntyre in preparation for the Monterey Peninsula Volunteer Services Flea Market to be held at the Monterey County Fairgrounds on October 7, from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Above, Mrs. McIntyre displays a tulie Christmas tree to Mrs. R. H. Barrett, a member of the committee. Other members include Miss Joy DeCamp, Mrs. Ellis P. Egan and Mrs. J. B. Farrior. The proceeds will be divided among the building fund for the New Monterey Neighborhood Center, the Logan Hall School for Retarded Children, and the Monterey USO.

tries, to Atascadero Art Club, Inc., P.O. Box 28, Atascadero, 93422. This should be done before Saturday if entries are to be listed.

The 1965-66 Federal "duck stamp" contest has been announced by Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall.

Secretary Udall stated that a drawing of any species of North American waterfowl, except red-head, pintail, and mallard ducks, brant, and Nene geese will be acceptable. These five species are excluded because they have appeared on duck stamps within the last five years.

Standard rules for the contest are: The design must be horizontal, seven inches wide and five inches high, in black and white only, and on a mat no larger than eight by 11 inches in order to facilitate display for judging.

Drawings must be sent to the Office of Information, Fish and Wildlife Service, United States Department of the Interior, Washington, D.C. 20240, and postmarked not later than midnight November 15, 1964.

An artist may submit as many drawings as he desires, but each must be accompanied by a signed copy of the regular agreement.

The agreement covering reproduction rights, also a free copy of the leaflet, "Rules for the Annual Duck Stamp Design Contest," are available by writing to the Office of Information of the Fish and Wildlife Service in Washington, D.C.

school, which is now beginning its fourth year, and is currently located at Santa Fe and Pico in Carmel. Classes from kindergarten through sixth grade are offered.

"Although we start the year at the same location, we expect to be in our new home in Carmel Valley by the Spring semester," Reverend Farmer said.

Contractors' bids for preparation of the new school site and construction of six classrooms, an office and a library will be opened the same day school begins. The permanent site for the school, now called All Saints' Episcopal Day School, is on the south side of Carmel Valley Road near Schulte Road.

Teachers this year include Mrs. Donald Kellerman, kindergarten; Mrs. George Faser, first grade; Mrs. Eugenia Nelson, second grade; Miss Marilyn Kudell, third grade; Miss Ann Sewell, fourth grade; and Miss Evelyn Smith, fifth and sixth grades.

The staff will be augmented by two part-time French teachers, who will instruct pupils in the

Shakespeare Comedy For Circle Theatre

The Golden Bough Circle Theatre will salute the four hundredth anniversary of William Shakespeare with a production of one of his greatest comedies, "The Tempest," under the direction of Vosco Call, will open September 11 for a seven-week run.

Mr. Call, a member of the drama faculty of Utah State University, has had wide experience in staging and playing Shakespeare. His theatrical career includes acting on Broadway as well as acting, directing and teaching at the University of Washington, the University of Minnesota, and in his native Utah. He has toured one-man programs of Shakespeare throughout the West, and just before coming to Carmel he com-kindergarten through sixth grades.

Openings are still available for children in the kindergarten, first and fourth grades, Reverend Farmer says. Information may be obtained by calling 624-3884.

Production facilities at the Circle are being stretched to their limits by preparations for Shakespeare's exotic fable. Abstract settings suggestive of a ship's deck and a desolate, rocky island call for construction techniques never before used at the Golden Bough. Costumes ranging from conventional aristocratic dress to the fish-skins, clinging vines and flames worn by the picturesque monsters and spirits inhabiting the isle, are challenging the imagination and skill of a team of workers. Sound effects include the splitting of a ship in the wild tempest of the title, and many tunes played on ancient or primitive instruments supposedly strummed by supernatural beings.

Originally written for performance as a court masque, "The Tempest" is at once the most spectacular of Shakespeare's comedies and one of the most solidly constructed and easily followed of his plots. It includes elements of serious drama, high comedy and slapstick, drawn together at the close in a warm scene of reconciliation.

Teacher Briefed

Carmel Junior High School science teacher, Herbert C. Reuter, Jr., was one of 75 secondary school earth science teachers who attended a five-day briefing session in Boulder, Colorado, August 17 to 21.

The course "Investigating the Earth" was written by 41 earth scientists, secondary school teachers, and science educators. A preliminary edition of the text, laboratory manual, and teachers' guide will be used at Carmel Junior High School during the 1964-65 academic year.

Ansel Adames Entertain

The Ansel Adames' cocktail party on Sunday afternoon in honor of their houseguests, their son Michael and his wife Jeanne, lasted well into the evening hours. Michael and Jeanne, who now live in St. Louis, Missouri, where Michael is studying medicine at Washington University, had a wonderful time catching up on all the news from old friends.

Among those who signed the Adams guest book were, Joan Beth Danysh, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Klene, the Archie G. Clarks, Jr., Mrs. Bridget Sanders, Mrs. Russell Williams, also Mrs. Williams' son-in-law and daughter, Dr. Ben and Mrs. Chaffey here from Los Angeles. Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Bissantz, James Glaser, Mrs. Hartley Dewey, Dr. and Mrs. L. Bruce Meyer, Pat and Nat Farberman, famed photographers for Life Magazine, and Pat's mother, Mrs. Grattan English, also signed the guest book. Additional signers were Dr. and Mrs. Seeley W. Mudd, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Elton, Will and Virginia Shaw, and Will's brother, Steve, who had just flown into town, Brett Weston and Dick McGraw.

Mrs. Charles Mayhew, the Adames' daughter, Anne, who has been, with her three small daughters, visiting her parents for the past fortnight, had, unfortunately, to return to Redwood City on Sunday morning and miss the party.

Wedding Plans

With their wedding day on Sunday, Kathleen Henderson, the daughter of the Vern Hendersons of Carmel, and William Hunter, III, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hunter, Jr., of Pebble Beach, have selected their attendants.

Mrs. William Muniz, Jr., of Pacific Grove, Kathy's sister, will be her matron of honor. Miss Susan Hunter, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Susan Wood of Arcadia and Miss Julie Campbell of Carmel will be bridesmaids.

Bill's best man will be G. Bayley Dorris of Pacific Grove. Ushers will be Boyd Hunter of Lafayette, the bridegroom's brother; John Rodgers of Fontana, and Richard Muniz, Jr., of Pacific Grove.

Out of town guests who will arrive early this week-end are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hunter of Lafayette; Mr. and Mrs. Warren Boyd of Piedmont; Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Knuth of San Rafael, and Charles Mahan of Los Angeles.

Following the nuptial ceremony in All Saints' Episcopal Church, a reception will be held at the Beach Club, Pebble Beach.

Thompson Vacation

The Ralph Thompsons, with their exuberant half-dozen, Larry, Nancy, Bill, Bob, Beth and Doug, have just returned from an eight-day tour of southern California's highly publicized attractions, and they didn't miss a thing!

Disneyland came first, where Joan and Ralph as well as the children tried everything. They saw two baseball battles, Dodgers versus Giants, too. In Tijuana, they inspected the architecture but found watching a champion game of jal-alai much more exciting.

During a two-day "rest" in San Simeon Lodge they toured Hearst Castle, and, homeward bound, climaxed the sojourn with lunch at Nepenthe.

"During his 'vacation' Ralph talked to his office for a total of at least six hours," Joan reported. "And of course we got back in time to attend the fair."

Home From the East

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lofton, their daughter, Melissa, and her friend Pamela Whitworth, arrived home on Monday after spending the summer on a motor trip across the country and back. They visited relatives and friends in Ohio, Illinois, New York, Washington D.C., and the Carolinas as well as stopping elsewhere.

Surprise Party

The sons and daughters, nieces and nephews and grandchildren of John Milton Thompson gathered at his home on Sunday evening to celebrate Mr. Thompson's birthday. It was a surprise party and every guest brought a birthday cake, so that Mr. Thompson was kept busy blowing out candles. The junior John Thompsons, who share the guest of honor's home, hosted the celebration.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Thompson, Sr.; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Thompson, Jr., with three of their six children; Charles and Helen Burkey, and Carol and Kenneth Graham.

Wed At Wayfarer

Mrs. Maudie O. Riedel of Hillsborough became the bride of William Lightner of San Francisco at rites attended by family members only on Saturday in the Church of the Wayfarer. The Reverend George Greer read the high noon services.

The bride chose a pale blue chiffon gown trimmed in satin which was fashioned with a boat neckline and flared skirt. With it she wore a veil-trimmed hat of matching material, and pinned white orchids to her handbag.

Mrs. Clyde Welden of Piedmont, sister of the bride and her only attendant, wore a white cotton lace gown over yellow and matching accessories.

Thomas Tringalli of San Francisco served as best man.

A luncheon for family members was held at Del Monte Lodge.

Daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Oppenheimer of Alameda and Carmel Valley, the bride has one brother, Arthur C. Oppenheimer II of Piedmont. Also attending the wedding were her children, Richard, Peter and Pamela Kane, and Nancy and James Riedel. She is a graduate of Anna Head School and the University of California at Berkeley.

Her husband, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Lightner, is the father of Mrs. Michael Cronin and William Lightner, Jr., who were also present at the nuptials.

The couple will make their home in Hillsborough.

Nix Report

Sherri Nix, the daughter of Joanne and Dudley Nix has after a short visit with her parents, returned to Hollywood and the United Artists Studio, for the filming of "Swinging Summer" featuring Connie Stevens, in which Sherri will appear.

Sherri's sister, Joanne, Jr., will teach an elementary class in St. Angela's Catholic School in Pacific Grove. The school year commences September 8.

Royal Guests

Royal guests from Stockholm, Sweden, were registered at Candlelight Inn this past week. They were the Countess Estelle Bernadotte and the Count and Countess Folke Bernadotte. Touring the United States, the Countess said that Carmel, as a resort, is known throughout Europe, and friends had told her of Carmel's inns. An ardent horticulturist, Countess Estelle spent much time in the gardens, finding blooms entirely new to her.

The trio left yesterday by car to visit the "storied towns and cities of the Early West." Jackson Hole, Wyoming, was high on their list.

Woman's Club

Mrs. Walter Adams will show and comment upon a collection of her travel motion pictures at the final summer meeting of the Carmel Woman's Club on September 14. Tea in the patio will follow the entertainment.

Convention Highlights

Nancy Farr, who attended the Democratic convention in Atlantic City with her father, State Senator Fred Farr, is still in the East, visiting friends and relatives in Philadelphia and Washington. In hasty notes to her mother, Nancy reports that she will have wondrous tales to tell... breakfast with Robert Kennedy and luncheon with Adlai Stevenson... are advance highlights of her adventures in Atlantic City. Senator Farr came home in time to help with the junior livestock auction at the county fair on Saturday.

New Art Gallery Opens Saturday in Carmel Highlands

The Harry Murphy Studio-Gallery, a new art gallery in Carmel Highlands, opens Saturday. It is situated in the original Highlands firehouse one block above Highlands Inn.

The owner of the gallery is Harry Murphy, 29 years old and unmarried. The tall, handsome blond-haired young man has come here from Reno, Nevada, where he was president of the Nevada Artists Association. Four years ago he came to live in the West from Florida.

Harry Murphy will have continuous one-man showing of contemporary works in painting, sculpture, ceramics, drawing and printmaking.

He has attended the University of Florida and the University of Nevada but is largely self-taught. He has been a working artist for ten years.

Gallery hours will be 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily including Sundays and holidays.

MacLennan

With the death of John William MacLennan on Saturday, August 29, Carmel lost one of its widely-known citizens.

Mr. MacLennan, who was born July 17, 1880, on Prince Edward Island, Canada, died in his Carmel Valley home following a brief illness.

An historian, writer, and teacher and a resident of California for 43 years, Mr. MacLennan taught at Santa Barbara State College and gained fame throughout the state as originator of the Santa Barbara Fiesta.

He graduated from Dartmouth College in 1904 and prior to coming to California, taught at Roxbury Latin School, Boston, Massachusetts, and was for a time head of Teacher's College in Chicago, Illinois.

Mr. MacLennan, with his wife, artist Eunice Cashion MacLennan, came to Carmel to make their home in 1949.

During the ensuing 15 years, Mr. MacLennan contributed much to the community. His major interest was history. His commentaries on art and related subjects appeared many times through the years in The Carmel Pine Cone. He was a member of the Carmel Group, a discussion group.

Recently, Mr. and Mrs. MacLennan have been residents of Carmel Manor.

In addition to his wife, Mr. MacLennan is survived by one brother, Edgar A. MacLennan of Santa Monica.

Private family services were held on Tuesday in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea. Dr. Harold Robinson, a retired clergyman and a resident of Carmel Manor, officiated.

Private inurnment followed in the family niche in Hollywood Cemetery in Los Angeles.

Paul Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

DON'T consider this home built from Carmel charm unless you plan to be a resident of this community. It is too nice to trust to renters and you would miss out on all the benefits of this possible four bedroomed haven from hurry, located only two blocks from the Post Office, on a secluded lot overlooking a tree filled ravine. Three outside entrances, each to a group of rooms that are joined inside, give great flexibility of living mode. The price $34,850 should be interesting to a buyer who is going to be permanent.

THE PRICE OF OCEAN VIEWS THESE DAYS

CARMEL, $37,500. Pt. Lobos to Cypress Point views from a contemporary two bedroom and den, two bath home. Undeveloped lower level for expansion.

CARMEL, $37,750. Right downtown, a condominium apt. where the living is luxurious and care-free and the view is spectacular from your private deck.

CARMEL HIGHLANDS, $49,500. The best unobstructed ocean view in the whole Carmel area accompanied by 2 bedroom, 2 bath home and double garage.

RANCHO RIO VISTA, an acre and a half with sweeping valley views as well as ocean views toward Pt. Lobos. Beautiful 2 bedroom, beautifully built.

PACIFIC GROVE, $57,500. Just off Ocean View Blvd. with all the advantages of the view without the traffic. 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, a serene oriental feeling.

PEBBLE BEACH, $62,500. Enchanting English architecture in a small home built (by Comstock) for expansion as you wish. On a lovely lot, with a lovely view.

SPINDRIFT ROAD, $89,500. Probably the most perfect 2 bedroom, 2 bath home you will ever see, with the sea across the street and a forest behind the patio.

CARMEL MEADOWS, $99,500. Overlooking Carmel and the sea, this is a doctor's home with every room an interesting reason to stay home and enjoy the view.

CARMEL, $139,500. "What charms do lie behind these garden walls" on San Antonio in the luxurious better-than-new home with 2 extra lots on Scenic Drive.

PEBBLE BEACH, $300,000. Spectacular 2 bedroom residence practically in the ocean, beautifully equipped with walks and "sitting spots" to enjoy the view.

CARMEL HIGHLANDS, $500,000. Approx. 8 acres with a magnificent stone manor house, groves of cypress, meadows of succulents, private beach. Probably the most exciting spot on any coastline of the world.

Sunset: The End Of An Era?

torney Argyll Campbell to draft a parking ordinance "to eliminate the traffic congestion in the business district." A restaurant in town staged dances, even though the city council had denied them a permit to do so, and the city attorney was asked to find legal means to stop this activity which, the council said, "attracted the wrong element" to Carmel.

The same year the Boy Scout house was built with public subscription funds and a large group of citizens was working to have Point Lobos become a state park. The Carmel Planning Commission was established and immediately advised winding roads, planted with trees, to stop fast traffic in the residential district.

The Carmel Music Society presented, for its fifth season, Szgiet, the Neah-Kah-Nie String Quartet, Myra Hess and Kreutzberg.

The League of California Cities brought 1,200 persons to Del Monte Hotel for a convention attended by Mayor Herbert Heron of Carmel.

The Monterey County Fair had a Spanish-American theme with an orchestra brought from Mexico to enhance the fiesta atmosphere of the 1931 fair. John D. Rockefeller regretted he could not come, but sent fair directors a shiny, new dime.

Despite the depression, Carmel citizens, in 1931, passed a bond issue to build Sunset School auditorium and two classrooms with the biggest turnout of voters ever seen in the city up to that time. The bonds passed by a 412-123 vote.

On November 13, 1931, Sunset auditorium was formally opened. Sunset pupils presented a program. Speakers were Principal Otto Bardarson, Architect C. J. Ryland and County Superintendent of Schools James W. Force.

In the foyer on opening night hung an exhibition of paintings by local artists. Included in this show was work by Catherine and George Seideneck, Ferdinand Burgdorff, Moira Wallace, Myron Oliver, Alvin Beller, Laura Maxwell and Ed-da Maxwell Heath, all still residing in this area.

The addition of the auditorium to the school was lauded as the opening of a new era for the community... history has proved this to be true.

Next fall when the school buzzed no longer summons children to classes at Sunset School, the city will own the facility.

By an overwhelming majority in April, Carmel citizens approved a $575,000 bond issue to purchase the school for a municipal cultural and community center.

Members of the Sunset Committee, appointed by Mayor Herbert Blanks, are prepared to recommend, on September 15, that the school facility become a creative arts center built and operated by a group of Carmel art, music and theatre organizations by lease agreement with the city.

Carmel is not so different as it was in 1931. Many of the same problems face the community this year. The main difference is that we are not now in a Depression and everything is more costly.

Carmelites soon may have to decide whether it is worth approximately $2 million dollars to preserve the cultural life of this community, or let the era started in 1931 end at the close of this school year.

The children who go back to start a new school year at Sunset for the last time on Thursday will, as adults, reap the consequences of whatever decision is made. —M.L.

Non-Profit Group Best To Develop Cultural Center

their own memberships in the organizations represented on the board.

The Sunset Committee interim report, in addition, recommends that the center developed as above should be turned over to the city, without cost and free of incumbrance, after the original long-term lease contract with the city expires.

Facilities for the police, fire and street departments, also the corporation yard should not be situated on the center site, the report further recommends.

The city hall or city administrative offices might be placed on a clearly defined area of the Sunset property, separated from the remaining cultural portion, if such be found necessary to avoid endangering grants from foundations and other sources whose money may be available for cultural development only, the report adds.

Recommendations also include the preparation of a master plan based on a study made by the "very best architectural talent" and that architecture should be compatible with the Carmel urban forest.

All of the existing buildings may have to be demolished as this plan is realized, the report says, and points out that present buildings are good for five years or more, so far as structural strength is concerned. However, some rooms are deficient in lighting, electrical systems and ventilation. Certain work on the auditorium is needed. This minimum rehabilitation work should be undertaken in accordance with specified recommendations of the city's building inspector. Cultural organizations leasing any of the structures should make required improvements to their premises, or the city should charge enough rent for the premises to cover all such costs, the report advises.

Recommended, too, are reasonable expenditures to protect the auditorium and certain other rooms against fire and panic conditions.

Before any architects are engaged, the number and sizes of facilities to be provided should be determined.

Present buildings should be used to find out, by actual trial, the size, number and kind of accommodations that ultimately will be needed, the report states.

Listed in the report as desirable development of the future center are: a 1,500-seat auditorium; art gallery-museum; arts and crafts workshops; lecture hall and meeting room; branch library; city hall and offices; offices for the above developments; a parking garage. Any remaining space is recommended for use for children's athletics and a playground.

Lastly the report recommends that the Sunset Committee, appointed by the mayor, should continue to operate in order to (a) get fund raising facts and costs from professionals and the League of California Cities; (b) get reliable information on the forma-

Carmelites Garner County Fair Awards

Emily Goldsmith, Merle Murphy, Patricia M. Jinishian, Mrs. Elsie Grandfield, Florence Popoff, Shelley Waddington, Bonnie Keogan, Hetty Baxter, and Hazel B. Jacoby. The latter entered the 4-H division and won six firsts, three second and two thirds.

Mrs. E. A. Odello was the Carmel winner of the most awards in the floriculture section. She gained two firsts, five seconds and three thirds—total ten awards.

Other floriculture awards went to Katherine O'Neill, Mrs. J. Snider, Mrs. Ann Konig, Mrs. Lou Merritt, Margaret Kolb, Mrs. Roger Hope, Captain E. A. O'Neill, Patricia Link, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Parsons, Stephen James, Carla Odello, Mrs. Paul Rockey, Hallie Samson, Lewis Brown, Lorraine Hoffman and the Carmel Orchid Society. The latter group carried off first prize in their class as did also Mrs. Hoffman.

In the 4-H forestry division, Hazel B. Jacoby gained three firsts and a second. John Jacoby won two seconds and a third. He also won five awards in the 4-H electricity division, three firsts and two seconds.

Proposed in the report as a time schedule to complete all above suggestions is the following: architectural data, November 15, 1964; corporation data, December 15, 1964; fund raising data, January 15, 1965; final report, February 1, 1965.

Equestrian Event Starts Tomorrow At Pebble Beach

The 7th annual Pebble Beach Three-day Equestrian Event takes place tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday. Operated in accordance with the current rules of the American Horse Show Association, the event will have team as well as individual competitions. There will be jumping as well as cross country and dressage tests.

Tomorrow dressage tests will start at 8 a.m. and resume at 1 p.m. Saturday afternoon, 1 p.m., is the starting time for the endurance test. Jumping tests will be held on Sunday. Entries have been received from all over California for each competition.

Colonel Jonathan R. Burton of Fort Rucker, Alabama, will come out to judge the Three-Day Event. Richard Collins is chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. Collins will host a luncheon tomorrow for riders and judges. Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Osborne will entertain with their annual picnic luncheon at Indian Village in the Del Monte Forest for riders, officials and guests before the endurance trials which are the highlight of the Three-Day Event. Saturday night a no-host dinner dance is scheduled at the Beach Club, and Sunday noon, before the finals of the stadium jumping, James M. R. Glaser will entertain with a luncheon for the officials.

Association Wants City To Screen All New Businesses

they apply to operate here.

This committee, the letter proposes, could study business license application forms, or any other plan for the "conservation of the desirable characteristics of Carmel's business district."

At present, the zoning ordinance of the city is the only control over businesses operating in the commercial zone. However, this law is now being tested in court as the result of the opening of the Fine Arts Gallery of Scottsdale Inc.

The city council maintains this business violates both an emergency ordinance against auctions and the business district zoning ordinances.

The gallery obtained a retail sales business license on July 7 with a statement that this license did not permit sales by auction stamped on the license. The gallery opened as a "public sales" operation on July 15, and is still operating pending a federal court decision in San Francisco.

Meanwhile, the court has enjoined the city from any action against the gallery.

On June 3, the city council denied the gallery a business license on the grounds that an auction business could not be licensed under the existing city code.
